

Flour Wars!

When: Saturday Dec. 15, 2012, 10am - 3pm

Where: Camp Allatoona Aquatics Base.

What: "Flour Wars" - a capture the flag type game using bombs made of flour.

When we arrive, we will make our bombs using flour, pantyhose and string.

We will divide into teams and play "Capture the Flag" except instead of tagging, you get hit with a flour bomb!

We will eat a picnic lunch.

What to bring: Class B uniform, preferably one of your darker color shirts. It will likely be cold, so your coat/jacket/sweater should be easily washable.

You may want to bring clean clothes to change into afterward, or have a towel to sit on to protect your car seats.

Bring a bag or pouch to carry your bombs during the game, water bottle and permission form.

You may want safety goggles or swim goggles to help keep flour out of your eyes.

Bring your own picnic lunch & drinks.

Everyone will be required to stay after the games to clean up the area and Leave No Trace.

In the event of rain, we'll have to cancel. :(
