GAME
The Scout-Led Troop

- Group Discussion: Define leadership
- Group Discussion: Tips for Being a Good Leader in the Troop
- Game: Willow in the Wind
Introduction to Servant Leadership

• Group Discussion: Why Should Scouts Choose to Be Leaders?
  - Reflection:
  - Key points:
Introduction to the Tools of the Trade

• Communications – The skills of being an effective listener and an effective communicator are valuable tools for any leader.

• Planning – Proper planning makes the difference in almost all Scouting activities.

• Teaching EDGE – The Teaching EDGE method can be used any time a leader is helping others learn.
Basic Parts of ANY communication:

- A sender → A message → A receiver
- This is still a valid model today. It applies to all forms of communication: verbal, written, music, film, signaling, pantomime, teaching, etc.
Key Listening Tips:

- Listen with your eyes as well as with your ears. Watch for nonverbal cues.
- Avoid distractions, both physical and mental. Give the speaker your full attention.
- Try to see things from the speaker’s point of view. In other words, try to put yourself in the speaker’s shoes.
- Apply the ideas to yourself. Think about how the speaker’s message relates to you and your experiences.
- Ask questions if you are unclear about anything.
- Review the speaker’s points and think what logically might come next in the message.
- Curb your desire to talk until the speaker has finished.
- Respond nonverbally (nod your head or smile) to the speaker.
- Practice listening with respect for the speaker. Work hard not to interrupt even when you have a burning desire to make a point.
Effective Messages - Tips

• Organize your thoughts
• Minimize distractions
• Get the audience’s attention first
• Speak clearly and make eye contact
• Repeat facts such as dates, times, and places.
• Distribute notes
Planning

• Second only to communicating, good planning is an essential skill for every effective leader.
  ▪ At its core, planning is really just thinking ahead

• Ask questions – develop answers

• After initial planning (also called “happy path” planning), start asking “what if” questions
  ▪ Adjust your plan to accommodate the unexpected
  ▪ Next add the “who” – the resources to make it happen
Group Exercise: Planning

- Plan as a group a sample troop service project
- Scenario: On a Saturday, six weeks from now, the troop will conduct a service project at a local city park. The project involves:
  - Installing 50 feet of split-rail fence around a tree (to protect it)
  - Removing old plants and undergrowth from a nearby area (approximately 500 square feet in area). Laying down weed block in the cleared area. Spreading 6 cubic yards of mulch in the area just cleared and under the fenced-in tree
  - Planting 15 to 20 small plants and shrubs in a small garden in a third area nearby
Planning (exercise)

• Task:
  - Plan what equipment you need for the project and how you’re going to get it. Plan how to use and manage your team on the day of the project.

  - Reflection – about the planning session
  - Reflection – about the project

• Key points:
Teaching EDGE

- The EDGE (Explain, Demonstrate, Guide, Enable) method is the primary training method to teach skills in the troop.
- EDGE should be used for all teaching opportunities. Make it a habit.
- It can be used anytime a leader is helping others learn.
The Four-Step EDGE Process

1. Explain - The trainer explains how something is done.
2. Demonstrate - After the trainer explains, the trainer demonstrates while explaining again. This gives the learner a clear understanding of what success looks like.
3. Guide - The learner tries the skill while the trainer guides him through it. The trainer gives instant feedback as the learner practices the skill.
4. Enable - The learner works independently under the watchful eye of the trainer. The trainer helps remove any obstacles to success, thus enabling the learner to succeed.

- Sample skill instruction
- Reflection:
Tools of the Trade (Wrap-up)

- Communications, planning, and teaching — are core skills leaders can use any time they are working with their team.
- Good planning is foundational to everything.
- As you grow in Scouting and take on more leadership roles, your leadership skills and strengths will continue to grow over time.
