

SCOUTING FOR FOOD

A NATIONAL GOOD TURN FOR AMERICA

ONE IN FIVE PEOPLE IN OUR COMMUNITY STRUGGLE WITH THE DAILY NEED OF WHOLESOME AND NUTRITIOUS MEALS.

A central value of the Scouting program is that of service, found easily in the Scout Oath to "Help other people at all times." It is likewise our duty as volunteers in the Boy Scouts of America to ensure that each and every Scout has the opportunity to engage in service projects with meaning and profound impact - and Scouting for Food is this type of project. When Scouts go into our neighborhoods and collect food, they are truly helping those in need while developing a lifelong virtue of community service.

The Boy Scouts of America has a strong tradition of teaching community service in the Atlanta community, let's keep this tradition going and sign up your unit to participate today!
